Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 13 October 2006.

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments and Declaration Under 37 C.F.R. 1.132 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-10, 13-19, 21-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lazarov et al. (6,110,204) in view of Cavasin (5,800,747) and Kirkpatrick et al. (6,676,989). Lazarov et al. disclose a compound including Ti, N, O for coating on a stent surface for reducing neointimal hyperplasia or to improve the biocompatible surface of the stent. Although, Lazarov et al. do not disclose implanted the TiNO at a depth within at least a region of a surface of the stent. Cavasin and Kirkpatrick et al. disclose implant the compound at a depth within the surface of the implant would create a surface with reduced friction and increased hardness. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the method in view of Cavasin and Kirkpatrick et al. for depositing the TiNO compound of Lazarov into the stent surface order to enhance the strength of the stent as well as providing stent with blood compatible surface.

In regarding to claim 7, although the combination teaching as described above fails to disclose a stent being made from stainless steel, stainless steel is well known material for making stent. Therefore, it would have been obvious matter of design choice to make stent from stainless steel a well known material in the art doing so would amount to mere substitution of one known material for another within the same art that would perform equally well for the stent as of the combination teaching.
